London, 26th—Boulanger has told an interviewer that he will not force on a war with Germany; but he does not admit that the war of 1870 was a final settlement between the two countries.

He declares that he would never allow Frenchmen to be insulted. He would like to be friends with Russia and England.

The papers take little or no notice of the General's arrival. The Standard says:—"If he wishes to conspire actively against the French Republic, he must find some other place than British territory to do it in. Our hospitality must not be used to embroil us with a foreign Power. It is said that Senator Artin, President of the Senate Committee named to try Boulanger, has signed two hundred search warrants and one hundred and forty orders for arrest in connection with the trial. The vigorous action of the Senate deserves respect, although its course from the first is considered to have been a great mistake."

TRADE WITH GREAT BRITAIN.

Antibes, March 17th.

Mr. Latzina's tables of Argentine trade are so admirably arranged that you can see at a glance the whole working of commerce in the last ten years. Take, for example the dealings with G. Britain:

	1878-87.
Imports from G. Britain	247 million dollars
Exports to „	78 „ „
Surplus imports.....	169 „ „

Those people who believe in the balance of trade will weep at the idea that since 1878 G. Britain has extracted a sum equal to 34 millions sterling from the Argentine Republic. As a matter of fact it is quite the other way, the Argentina having extracted from John Bull a sum twice as great. It may be said that the influx of British capital has been in the form of loans, still more aggravating the burthen on the public and the drain of its resources. Any discussion on such points is futile. Suffice it to say that in 10 years G. Britain has poured into the Republic about 250 million dollars' worth of merchandise and a still larger amount of capital in loans, railways, land-purchases, etc. If you would go back to the old balance-of-trade theory you must abandon all the features and elements of progress.

The imports in 1887 from the United Kingdom were so numerous that it is not easy to sum them up for our readers. They comprise 360 items, and I wish Mr. Latzina would improve his trade report in this respect by putting an additional page for each country with a summary under ten or twelve heads of the principal branches.

First we have 960 prize cattle of all descriptions, valued at $200,000. Then come articles of grocery, 1,700,000; dry goods amounting to 14 millions; chemicals, $900,000; hardware and machinery 10 millions; coal 4 millions, and sundries 4 millions, making in all 35 million dollars. Under the head of hardware is included railway material, not quite 3 millions in amount. The importation of coal was nearly 400,000 tons. In the whole list of 360 items I find only cheese, salt and sugar which could be produced as easily in the Argentine Republic as imported. I may also add soap. These items are, however, so small as hardly to deserve notice. On the other hand, three items—viz., dry goods, iron and coal—stand for 28 millions, or 80 per cent of the total, sufficient evidence of the extremely useful nature of the components of British trade.

The exports to G. Britain are few, but sum up a value of 17 millions, or half that of the articles imported: they are briefly as follows;—

	$
320,000 tons of grain.....	9,400,000
63,000 tons of linseed.....	3,200,000
14,000 tons of meat.....	1,200,000
Hides, skins and wool.....	2,400,000
Sundries.....	900,000
	17,100,000

Grain stands for more than half, which is surprising, since G. Britain can draw supplies so easily from India and the U. States, from Russia, Australia and elsewhere. The item of meat includes 10,000 tons of frozen mutton, the rest being jerked beef. As a proof of the great development of trade with G. Britain, the exports thither in 1887 were five times what they were in 1878-79. This branch of trade must rapidly increase as the frozen mutton business expands. Meantime it is gratifying to see that small as is the number of British and Irish residents the trade-relations of the Republic with the U. Kingdom are greater than with any other nation.

The minor ports of the Parana have risen 160 per cent, those of the Uruguay only 18 per cent. All the Parana ports show an increase, except Corrientes, whereas the Uruguay shews a heavy fall at Concepcion and a lesser one at Gualeguay.

In the second place, as regards nations we find the gross trade exchanged with them was as follows:—

	1878.	1887.	Increase.
	$	$	p. ct.
U. Kingdom	15,520,000	51,860,000	234
France.....	18,590,000	47,610,000	155
Germany....	3,230,000	21,940,000	580
Belgium....	12,380,000	23,060,000	80
U. States....	5,500,000	16,940,000	205
Italy.....	3,440,000	10,140,000	200
Spain.....	3,380,000	6,330,000	90
Brazil.....	4,010,000	4,360,000	6
Uruguay.....	3,070,000	8,870,000	190
Chile.....	2,660,000	1,160,000	—
Paraguay....	980,000	1,730,000	75
Bolivia	200,000	250,000	—
Various	8,130,000	7,520,000	—
Total...	81,280,000	201,770,000	150

Ten years ago G. Britain held second place, the first being held by France, but the positions are reversed. The increase of trade with Germany is marvellous, that with Italy and U. States is also most satisfactory. Meantime we cannot fail to deplore the rapid decline of international relations in South America, caused by the jealous and mischievous tariffs which the Argentine Republic, Brazil, Chile, etc., are erecting against one another, to depress each other's commerce. They seem to have an insane delight in doing harm to one another. Much better would it be if all nations on the S. American Continent were to form a Zollverein, allowing the free interchange of commodities and agreeing to impose a uniform tax of 10 or 20 per cent on all merchandise coming from any other part of the world. The war of tariffs that is at present waged is a scandal and a source of weakness to S. American nations.

It may be said that in spite of these tariffs the trade of the Argentine Republic has increased 150 per cent, which is quite true. But who will venture to say what might have been the increase but for the tariffs? Ten years ago it was predicted that as soon as the Tucuman Railway should be pushed further north all the commerce of Bolivia would flow into the Argentine Republic. The result has been just the reverse, the trade with that country having fallen 15 per cent since 1878. Still worse is the case of Chile, the trade with that republic having declined 60 per cent. These are facts that cannot escape the notice of the new Finance Minister at Buenos Ayres, who is perhaps as convinced as myself of the value of Free Trade and the evil consequences that are inseparable from Protection.

LATEST FROM PARIS.

(From our Exhibition Correspondent.)

Paris, April 3rd

I seize this opportunity of beginning the series of letters I promised to write to the STANDARD

Of commercial news I have little to say and that little is unfavorable. Here transactions appear to suffer from a general 'degringolade'. The Panama Canal collapse, the Comptoir d'Escompte affair, and the violent fluctuations in the price of copper and other metals lie at the bottom of the general 'malaise'.

From Antwerp I have received advices of the failure of the important firm of Vander Taller, who was an intrepid speculator in coffee, wheat and other grain. This smash-up affects Antwerp, Havre, Dunkerque, Rotterdam and New York. The losses involved in Antwerp alone are said to be 100 millions, principally in grain speculation. Mr Vander Taller had bought up in the U. States no less than 1,500,000 bushels of wheat, and in this speculation he lost 30,000 bags, and he smashed up hopelessly, there Mr Ephrussi the banker, advanced him the money on the wheat. In Rotterdam and Havre 20,000 bags of coffee were sold at auction, and as prices were tumbling, you can imagine the losses sustained. In a word, the failure has caused the greatest sensation in the principal markets here.

I observe that the steamship companies connected with the Plate are exerting themselves and improving their fleets. This letter goes by a splendid new steamer, the La Plata, which is supposed to be a very fast boat. The same company will launch the Brazil shortly. These steamers are to do the trip in 18 days to Montevideo.

The Chargeurs Reunis will launch in October next the new steamers Corrientes, Concordia, Campana, and Colonia. They are 3000 tonners, 450 horse-power, and are being built at the Chantiers de la Loire.

Italy and Spain are also building new and faster boats. But in spite of these improvements, I cannot help thinking what a pity it is that our steamers are not as fast as those which run from Europe to the United States. The Inman Line has built a new steamer to run between Liverpool and New York. At the trials in a rough sea, this boat did 21 knots per hour.

The "Nineteenth Century" has an essay by Mr. Plimsoll on the Mercantile Navy with the sensational title "14 millions thrown into the sea every year". Mr. Plimsoll attacks the scandalous tolerance, thanks to which hundreds of ships unfit for navigation quit English ports every day, and also the prevalent practice of overloading, which exposes the lives of the sailors to continual danger. It was in 1875 and 1876 that the ex-member for Derby inaugurated his campaign against the above abuses, and in consequence of the measures taken, following his agitation, some 500 vessels have since been broken up by the order of the Admiralty, and many others altered in accordance with the provisions of the Act. In spite of these precautions, 2000 English sailors perish every year and merchandize is lost to the extent of 14 millions in consequence of the defective condition of the Mercantile Navy. At first sight, it would appear that these material losses would oblige the shipowners to discard their old boats, but as the Insurance Companies and underwriters indemnify them to the utmost farthing their only aim is to increase their profits at the expense of human life.

In 1884, Mr. Chamberlain, when President of the Board of Trade, presented a Bill to Parliament prohibiting the insurance of a vessel for more than its actual value, but, in consequence of the opposition of the House of Commons, he was obliged to withdraw it. Mr Plimsoll believes that the maritime insurances should only be effected in cases where the interested parties take every precaution to avoid disaster and where the amount of the policy is not exaggerated; this course would enable the premiums to be reduced to 2 per cent instead of 8 per cent, the ordinary figure.

The importation of goods into Spain during the month of January, according to official figures, has reached the extraordinary amount of 46,596,273 pesetas, being a nett increase of 1,909,131 pesetas over the corresponding month of the previous year, the increase being principally in iron, steel, machinery, skins and hides.

The Portuguese Government have imposed a very heavy import duty on foreign corn, so that practically there is only free trade in cereals in England.

Carlos Lix Klett.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent)

POSITION OF AFFAIRS.

March, 23.

The attack on the Attorney General came off last night in the House of Commons and was defeated by a government majority of 80. When we consider that in that majority there were 56 Liberal Unionists and that 26 Liberal lawyers abstained from voting from motives of professional etiquette you will see that the absolute Conservative majority in the House is very small, and that in point of fact the Conservatives as a party have no right in the country once the Irish question is settled. The Conservatives are simply part and parcel of the Liberal party. Lord Salisbury, who in antique language talks of the people's petitions and the counsel of the ministers "ascending to the throne," cannot stir hand or foot in home measures without the permission and advice of Lord Hartington and Mr. Chamberlain. Sir Richard Webster, a practised lawyer and consummate Pharisee, managed to make a spirited defence against the attacks of Sir William Harcourt, but his main plea was that as an advocate he was not bound by scruples he might respect in his private capacity. His own party thoroughly accepted the excuse, and Mr. Smith, the first lord of the Treasury, shook hands with the Attorney General upon the close of his speech. By far the most sensational event in the proceedings was Mr. Parnell's passionate defiance of Lord Salisbury's insinuations in regard to the doubts as to the proofs of the Irish leader's innocence. Mr. Parnell challenged the Tory benches to say by word or sign that he was responsible for the letters known to be forgeries. Not a sign. Not a word. The three hundred and more bullies who had followed the Times and the Attorney General like sheep and had not scrupled to accuse Mr. Parnell of murderous intentions, sat dumb and motionless. Only one amongst them—the tradesman Robert Fowler—was suspected of "nodding" assent to the accusation Mr. Parnell defied. Sir Robert Fowler was quickly worried by the ravenous Irish members and had to deny that he had nodded or spoken. With the attack on the Attorney General and his defence the heckling of the Ministers may come to an end, and when Mr. Gladstone returns from his brother's funeral in Scotland the ordinary business of the House will be resumed. Much, however, has been done by heckling. Firstly, Mr. Balfour, in obedience to the wishes of many amongst his own supporters, is said to have waived the right and pleasure of torturing Irish political prisoners, who will henceforth be treated as misdemeanants of a higher class. Secondly, Mr. Chamberlain is pressing his schemes of land purchase and local government in Ireland which, it is understood, the Tory government is prepared to introduce during the session of 1890 when, it is thought, the increased prosperity and growing contentment of the people will make a favourable opportunity for the final settlement of Irish grievances. Meanwhile, the Liberals since their victory at Kennington have increased their majority in the Gorton division of Manchester, and have hopes of carrying Enfield and perhaps Rochester. But that kind of progress, if encouraging for the future, is slow and the Tory government has still an arrow in its quiver, which if rightly aimed will hit its mark. If half aimed it will be fatal to the government. Count Herbert Bismarck is in London—"on a private visit." But curiously the British Ambassador at Berlin is also in London and has been here for some time. In spite of official denials the nervousness of the German press shows clearly that Count Herbert's visit is suspected to be of great importance. An open Anglo-German alliance is barely possible until war is imminent or some special reason discovers itself. Lord Salisbury dare not put into writing any agreement binding the future of this country to the support of the triple alliance. It is still evident, and has been for some time, that the desire of the Queen and Lord Salisbury, and of the upper and conservative classes, is to ally this country with the German Empire. The first open advance in that direction will be the visit of the German Emperor to London—provided that matters are made straight for him between this and July next. Nominally to prepare the way for a state reception of the Emperor in England, is supposed to be Count Herbert's mission. It is therefore in some sense a private mission, as it refers less to politics than to court etiquette and ceremony. So far he has not left the German embassy, nor has he called upon Lord Salisbury in an official capacity.

As an indication of the Germanising, or continentalising of this country under Lord Salisbury I refer you to Mr. Bryce's interpellation in the House of Commons in regard to a domiciliary visit made by the police to the house or lodgings of two Armenian gentlemen who edit a paper partly in French and partly in Armenian. The object of the paper is to secure those reforms in the administration of the Turkish Government in Armenia which were sanctioned in the Treaty of Berlin. Lord Salisbury himself has explained that the visit of the London police to the modest residence of the Armenian gentlemen was only to discover whether the paper was printed in London or in Paris, and this much was done at the instance of the Turkish ambassador. All quite right, only Mrs. Hodge, the landlady, and Mrs. Podge, the charwoman of the lodgings of the two Armenian gentlemen, were sadly put about by the visit of the detectives, which brought home to the bosoms of these ladies the meaning of a Tory government, and it causes many of us to ask, What next? If these things begin at the instance of the Turk, what may not be expected at the instance of our ally the German, and what German paper published in London will be safe?

At this moment political and financial matters are very quiet. Affairs in Paris seem to be tided over for the present, although it is pretty certain that the Société des Metaux will go into liquidation. Copper is quoted at £40, and the dealers think it will reach £50 before long.

I have looked over all the financial papers of this Saturday and do not find, for a wonder, the words "Buenos Aires" except in relation to the reception of the Irish emigrants. Your account of the miseries endured by Irish women and children in the streets of Buenos Aires is, you may depend upon it, passing from bishop to bishop in Ireland. I know, and you know, that the affair is simply a common instance of the laziness and ineptitude of the local officials. But the people here know nothing except what they see in the disgraceful paragraph which is going the round of the British and Irish newspapers.

BIMETALLISM.

To the Editor of the Economist.

Sir—I trust to your courtesy to enable me to reply to your comments last Saturday upon my speech on "Bimetallism," delivered at Manchester on the previous Wednesday.

You accuse me of gross exaggeration, and to support the charge, you put into my mouth an argument I never used, or dreamed of using, viz., that this country suffered all the loss arising from a fall of prices on exports without deriving any compensation from the equivalent fall in the price of imports. Perhaps you may have read a brief and inaccurate report. What I did say was as follows:—

1. I argued that an enormous fall of prices had occurred between 1873 and 1886, which I attributed largely to the demonetisation of silver and the consequent appreciation of gold.

2. I illustrated this fall by pointing out that the value of our exports in 1886 was £2;2,000,000 instead of, say, £349,000,000 (I accept your figures,) as would have been the case had the prices of 1873 been maintained.

3. I said that this long-continued and cruel fall of prices was the main cause of the extreme depression of trade between 1873 and 1886, and I do not think that a single mercantile man will deny this, certainly not the Commission on the Depression of Trade, which reported that this peculiar phenomenon was the main characteristic of this depression as compared with all previous ones.

4. I pointed out that the countries having a silver standard like India, had escaped this fall of prices, and the consequent depression of trade—a fact so notorious, that surely you do not dispute it; and I added that if England had had a silver standard in place of a gold one, she would also have escaped at least much of the fall and consequent depression. You say this argument "is, of course, fallacious." Please explain why?

5 I pointed out that a great fall of prices aggravates all the fixed charges on industry, which amount in this country to an enormous figure I estimate those fixed charges payable in gold at 170 millions sterling, including interest on the National Debt, plus 100 millions taxation, local and Imperial. It is clear that an addition of, say, 30 per cent in the purchasing power of gold has added prodigiously to the weight of those burdens, and I defy anyone to prove the contrary.

6. I pointed out that the interests of the industrial capitalist, and the labourers dependent upon him, are against this appreciation of the standard, while the interests of the capitalist fixed investment class are in favour of its appreciation, and consequently they oppose our views tooth and nail.

To show how enormous those burdens are, let me repeat an estimate I have given before, which I know is largely conjectural, but, indeed, it would please me much if you, or Mr Giffen, or some other great statistical authority, would examine and revise it.

	Per Annum £
Interest and sinking fund for National Debt, about.....	25,000,000
Railway bonds and preference shares.....	20,000,000
Local and municipal debts.....	7,000,000
Interest on mortgages on land, say 4 o/o on £500,000,000....	20,000,000
Double this amount on house property and industrial plant	40,000,000
Ground rents of long duration, mostly 75 to 99 years.....	30,000,000
Royalties, etc. on mines.....	9,000,000
Pensions, annuities, life interests, etc.....	20,000,000
	170,000,000
To this may be added the revenue, local and Imperial, raised by taxation, less charge for National Debt...	100,000,000
	270,000,000

I am, of course, aware that the amount raised in taxation to some extent fluctuates with the purchasing power of money; but it is to a very small extent; and, as a matter of fact, the expense of governing a country varies little from year to year. Notwithstanding the great fall in prices since 1873, the cost of governing this country in sterling money has constantly increased.

Lastly, I must point out how terribly this aggravation of burdens weighs upon industry. The annual aggregate income of all the people of the United Kingdom is estimated by Mr. Giffen at about 1,200 millions. Of course much of this income is counted twice, and even three times over, as one man's income is often drawn from that of another, as, for instance, the incomes of domestic servants come out of that of their employers. The net value of the production of wealth in a country is something quite different and much smaller. I have never seen an accurate statement of what this is, but I venture the assertion that at present low prices it is not more than 1,000 millions annually in the United Kingdom, and it has to carry this enormous burden of 270 millions, or 27 per cent., much of which goes to what may be called the drones of the hive, and not to the working bees.

But it is obvious that if the prices of 1873 prevailed, which were 30 to 40 per cent. higher than those now ruling, the value of the production would be 1,300 to 1,400 millions, and fixed burdens would be not 27 per cent., but only 19 or 20 per cent. In other words, the industrial class, that is, the vast majority of the nation, is mulcted of 7 or 8 per cent. of the whole annual production of the nation, say, at present values, of 70 to 80 millions sterling annually.

This is the reason why long periods of declining prices cause such suffering in a nation. This is the reason why England suffered so much between 1815 and 1848, and why Egypt felt the weight of her debt so crushing after 1873. She had, in fact, to surrender 50 per cent. more of the produce of her soil in 1886 to meet the claims of the bondholder than in 1873.

You may criticise my figures as much as you like; no doubt they are largely conjectural, but the principal laid down is unassailable. It is admitted by all leading economists, and by none more than Mr Giffen; see his able pamphlet on the Appreciation of the Gold Standard. Yet the City articles, and financial authorities of London, systematically ignore it. Need you wonder that the masses of the people are disconcerted at a gift hath blinded the eyes of the wise,' that they are inquiring whether there is not some connection between the inveterate opposition of the banking and capitalist class of London to our views, and their obvious interest to appreciate gold, and so despoil the debtor class of the community.

I will conclude with a quotation from Jevons, which put in a nutshell the cause of the buoyancy of trade from 1850 to 1873, and inferentially the depression between 1873 and 1886.

Of the Influence of Depreciation on the Commnnity as a Whole.—"I cannot but agree with MacCulloch that, putting out of sight individual cases of hardship if such exist, a fall in the value of gold must have, and, as I should say, has already, a most powerfully beneficial effect. It loosens the country as nothing else could from its old bonds of debt and habit. It throws increased rewards before all who are making and acquiring wealth, somewhat at the expense of those who are enjoying acquired wealth. It excites the active and skilful classes of the community to new exertions, and is, to some extent, like a discharge from his debts si to the bankrupt, long struggling against his burdens. All this is effected without a breach of national good faith, which nothing could compensate."—I am, yours faithfully,

Samuel Smith.

RACING NOTES AND ANTICIPATIONS.

At the time of writing, Jupiter Pluvius appears to have made up his mind to put a stop to sport for some days to come, and it seems little probable that the excellent programme issued by the Palermo executive can be brought off to-day. Nevertheless, it is necessary to attempt the usual weekly analysis, as in this country there is always an Argentine lining to every cloud, and the weather may suddenly clear and enable operations to proceed.

The Premio Porteño has been THE theme of conversation this week, 27 horses of all ages and classes now being left in, of which number about a dozen will see the post. Indecis and Havre are deservedly favourites, but are asked to meet better cattle than usual on unfavorable terms; still, they are great horses, and where one finishes the other is sure to be. Monarque has shown such excellent form of late that his chance must not be despised, but both fit and well, Osiris is certain to beat him. Cormeilles and Porteñito are favourably handicapped and, if the fancied one of the stable, the former will go close. But the Stud Nuevo possesses another candidate in Avril, who, if he has recovered from his ailment (whatever it may have been) of a fortnight since, holds a chance second to none. Discarding the claims of the other candidates, we sum up by taking the Stud Nuevo to win, with Indecis, Havre and Osiris to fight for place honours.

Morella is a good thing for the Premio Apertura, whilst the Premio Rivalidad appears to be between Apertura and Napoli. We fancy the Stud Maldonado for the Premio Competidores and Surplice for the Velocidad. The Premio Kemmis will introduce us to some high-priced youngsters; having heard some good reports of Holland, we must, in spite of the strong favoritism of Westminster, select him for this event, with the Stud Oriental as second string.

ELECTRIC TRAMWAYS

At last there seems a probability of having a change for the better in the Tramway service of Buenos Ayres: Mr. D. C. Sprague, of the Sprague Electric Railway and Motor Co., New York, the largest and most successful Electric Motor Co. in the world, has come out to the River Plate, to exploit the business of Electric Tramways: and is fully prepared to furnish estimates, and make contracts to equip any or all of the Tramway lines in the country. And it only wants the co-operation of the owners and managers of our lines to bring about a result that will be much more satisfactory not only to themselves, but to the public, and relieve as well the overworked horses doing the service.

The Sprague Co. is now operating this system in about thirty of the principal cities of the U. States with unqualified success, carrying the people with the utmost satisfaction, safety and dispatch.

Mr. Henry M. Whitney, one of the most prominent Railway men in the U. S. and President of the West End Tramway Co. of Boston, a company that operates 240 miles of track, 1800 cars and 10,000 horses says "it is a success in all respects."

There are about 20 miles of track and 40 cars now in operation for this company, and more are being constructed.

And it is not only that the public have a much more satisfactory transit, but the expense of operating is much less than by horses.

Many of these roads have grades of eight to ten per cent and sharp curves, and on none of them does the motive power cost over one half that supplied by horses, and on many of them it is much less.

Mr. Sprague is located with J. A. Bennet & Co. 388, Calle Maipu, where he will be glad to see anyone interested in electric motive power, and he will take pleasure in supplying all required information.

Railway Items.

THE SOUTHERN OF SANTA FE—THE EAST ARGENTINE ALL RIGHT—THE CHILCAS LINE—NANDUCITO TO PRESIDENCIA ROCA.—THE ANDINE AND GREAT WESTERN—THE ARGENTINE CENTRAL—"SLEEP, GENTLE SLEEP."

The Board of Public Works has informed the Minister of Interior that, as there is no Act of Congress authorising the extension of the Southern of Santa Fe Railway to Achivas, through Rio Cuarto, the contract for said work cannot be drawn up till such an Act is passed.

The kilometrage of the Provincial Railways of Buenos Ayres in March was:

Locomotives.....	851,018
Carriages.....	901,770
Wagons.....	2,123,350
Total...	3,886,144

The manager of the East Argentine Railway reports to the Deparment of Public Works that he has gone over the line since the floods subsided, and that he finds the permanent way only slightly damaged. Traffic was resumed all along the line on the 25th. During the suspension of traffic the steamer Ibera was the only one that came down the river for the mails and passengers for the upper Uruguay.

Engineer Gurnihig has called for several cranes, as the bridges on the Chilcas-Jujuy Salta-Santa Rosa line are about to be commenced.

The Public Works Board have advised Government to wire in both sides of the line from Chumbicha to Catamarca, and the most dangerous parts of the Dean Funes and Chilecito branch.

Messrs. Meiggs & Co., who have bought the concession of the Nanducito and Presidencia Roca line, have submitted the plans from kilo 100 to Presidencia Roca, those for the first 100 kilos being already approved. They propose a slight change in the route between kilos 450 and 500.

The use of kerosene in trains is said to have caused the blaze that occurred on the Central Northern Line at Avellanada station the other day. The post-waggon took fire while the train was at the station; half the mails were destroyed, and also $125,000 in bank notes belonging to the railway company.

Messrs. Delfin Gallo and Eduardo Madero have applied for approval of the statutes of the railway from Villa Maria to Rufino. The Local Board is formed by D. Gallo, E. Madero and Lucas Gonzalez. Capital £525,000 Sig.

The Works on the Pobladores Company's line from Belgrano to Las Conchas will be commenced to-morrow.

The Pobladores General Company have informed the Government that they are ready to begin the canalization of the Riachuelo, and therefore petition that all obstacles in the way of ocean vessels, from Barracas Bridge to the city boundary, may be removed, including all permanent bridges, not excepting those of the Ensenada and Southern Railways.

Inspector Fernandez says that Villa Maria station on the C. A. line is quite behind the age; no accommodation for either travellers or trunks. The service is most irregular. Complaints of lost luggage are loud and frequent. The Inspector says through tickets to Buenos Aires, Rosario and Cordoba should be issued. The Andine passengers have to leave their beds at 2 o'clock in the morning to take tickets to continue their journey.

Dr. Arnoz has telegraphed to Inspector Fernandez to make the Andine and Great Western send their sleeping cars on to Rosario, without change of car at Villa Maria, and the Central Argentine to send its Morpheus cars on to San Juan without any change. This will create a squeeze, as there is lots of sleep but few sleeping cars in the case.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Mud and melancholy were the chief ingredients of yesterday, and the prospect was glum for the usual racing and racketing of a Buenos Ayres Sunday. The great demonstration to Minister Varela to-morrow was the chief topic in commercial circles. Those sympathising with the movement are expected to close their shops and offices from noon till 4 p.m., and meet in the Plaza Victoria at 2 p.m. to march to the Government House.

We have received the promised communication from "A Traveller" in reference to his railway journey from here to Mendoza; but are obliged to hold it over for our next issue. It will make the hair of every member of the National Railway Board stand on end, and that of several managers fall out in handfuls. Nevertheless, it will interest and amuse the general public hugely.

Advices from Rioja report tremendous damage done in the city of Rioja by the last floods. Provincial cities always make a great fuss about a little rain, but are invariably more frightened than hurt.

The serious illness of ex-President Santos, from a heart attack, was announced yesterday. He was a little better in the afternoon, but still in a most dangerous state.

The season winds up to-day at the two ball alleys. Very attractive programmes are announced by both.

The letters by the last mail report that all the leading Argentines in Paris were preparing a grand banquet and other demonstrations to welcome the arrival of Vice-President Pelligrini in the French capital.

Dont forget Professor Niederberger's violincello concert to-morrow night in the Operai Italiani Hall. The London papers speak in the highest terms of this artist, and it is a privilege to hear him. The President of the Republic will be present. We publish the programme in another column. Tickets are now on sale at Hartman's, Hardoy's, Demarchi's, Medina's, Nevares' and Nolte's.

We received a score of versions of the Spanish for guinea-pig yesterday. "chancho de guinea," "Cochino de veinte y un chelines," etc; but the best of all is "Quiz." Perhaps our correspondent would kindly favour us with the Castilian derivation of this word.

A general meeting of the English Literary Society will be held on the 22nd prox., the principal business being to elect a Vice-President in the stead of the late Mr. Thicke, whose decease is a great loss to the Society, of which he was a very active member.

With great pleasure we can inform several correspondents, that, on Friday last the 26th inst., Professor Martin was elected Director of Entertainments of the the English Literary Society.

M. Forlet has secured a great "go" for the Variedades in the shape of Planquette's operette "Surcouf." Our readers may be interested in learning that this is the opera now being played with great success at the Prince of Wales' Theatre, London, under the name of "Paul Jone."

The English racing news to hand by the latest mails comprises intelligence important to Argentine Turfites. After Acme had run Wiseman to half a length in the Lincolshire Handicap, giving 13 lbs., he walked away with the Liverpool Cup, running in the name of Don Juan Bocau. Wiseman then ran 3rd for the City and Suburban, carrying a penalty for his previous victory, and has been sold for this country for (on dit) £3500. Now what is the value of Acme, who is 10 lb. his superior?

What is occurring in the trial of the too famous Olavarria murderer is a sample of the too numerous weak points in our administration of justice. Judge after judge makes some frivolous excuse for not accepting a seat in the Court of Appeal. Eight lawyers out of thirty eligible have adopted this course, and no doubt the remaining twenty-two will do the same.

The Pobladores Railway has some difficulty with no fewer than seventy citizens of credit and renown, who live between San Martin and the Tigre, and object to their ancestral domains being crossed by the iron Horse, to keep them awake at night with his diabolical whistling.

The Pall Mall Gazette to hand yesterday gives a most thrilling account of Stanley's hair-breadth escapes and dangers on "The Dark Continent." He was one hundred and sixty days in utter darkness in a dense forest, and he and his men were reduced to skeletons. His men mutinied, deserted, and sold their rifles for a mouthful of food; but he restored discipline by summarily hanging two of the worst offenders as an example. Stanley had to fight the natives almost continually, and his escape is truly wonderful.

An officer, a cadet, and nine troopers of the 5th Cavalry have deserted in Salta and crossed the frontier into Bolivia. Military discipline is apt to be very loose so far from head-quarters.

A new Hack Coach concern, which is likely to do a rattling ("o'er the stony street") business has been started at No. 2290 Calle Belgrano. The fares will be so low that the legs will be completely cut from under all competition—twenty cents for as many squares, and 50 cents per hour. This is almost as cheap as in Dublin, where a dash across the city on an outside car, behind the

Dr. J. Collis Browne's
CHLORODYNE.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other errands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that has occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

Business at the first ring to-day was fairly brisk all round. Much of the liquidation is being got through in passing shares to next month, and although stocks as a rule looked a trifle weak, they have held up wonderfully considering the tightness of paper money. The sovereign stock improved very sensibly its quotations for end of month, which touched at one moment 256 and closed a half point lower; there were numerous buyers for end of May, but the rate, which touched 260, fell off again to 257.50, closing at 258.50. These rates alone show the tightness of paper and the confidence of dealers that the stock will rally. As for Constructors, they maintained a rate of 132 almost until the close, when they weakened off to 131.50 for end of month. Credito Real fell off a point to 136 for same date. Bolsa Bank held up, as also La Plata Moles, but Cedulas shewed some shrinkage in nearly all the series quoted, both Provincial and National; the O series was disposed of as low as 76 for cash.

The Bolsa correspondent in London telegraphed the news to-day that National A and B Cedulas are quoted at 59¼ o/o, and Provincial I and J at 57¾. It is strange that A and B should be quoted at the same rate when here there is a difference in price of some 6 o/o.

The National Bank discounted yesterday 1,350,000 dols. between gold and paper.

The National Bank to-day gave out the following amounts of gold, by order of Minister Varela;—

Advices from Bragado announce that the branch of the Provincial Bank in that town has discounted over 200,000 dollars during the current month, principally in small amounts. The Buenos Aires house has not discounted for a long time, which is the subject of much comment in the market.

The s.s. Graf Bismarck has been put in sanitary observation in Montevideo.

The s.s. Teda has been chartered to load a heavy cargo of maize, new crop, in Ramallo and San Nicolas for Liverpool and Antwerp.

The Spanish brigantine Elena has been chartered to load 5,000 bales jerked beef from the Cibils' Saladero for Brazil.

From the Cerro Saladero the sale is reported of 2000 novillo hides, 68 lbs., to be delivered before end of month, at 53½ rles., and 1,000 cow-hides at 500 rles., put aboard.

The Revenue Office has reported favourably on a petition presented by Messrs P. Beck, W. F. Woodgate, and A. Newman for a state guarantee of 5 o/o on a capital of one million gold dollars to be invested in the export of frozen meat under the Beck system. The capital has been already subscribed by a syndicate of European bankers, and all the preliminaries for starting the business arranged. The minimum of animals to be exported in first year is fixed at 5,000.

A new bank with capital of one million dollars in 1000 shares is about to be started. It is styled the Banco de Credito Minorista, and, as the name intimates, the bank's operations will be principally with the large retail business of the city. The offices are to be opened in Calle Cangallo 557, between Florida and San Martin.

Mr. Pereda has addressed a vigorous note to the Rural Society, in which he attempts to show that a great part of the mortality in the herds and flocks is due to the importation of diseased animals. He proposes that a committee of estancieros and breeders should consider the advisability of quarantining all live stock imports.

Two more "centros agricolas" are reported; one on Mr. E. Godoy's estancia of 9092 hectares in Puan, and the other on 10,070 hectares belonging to Messrs P. M. Cernadas and Co. in Trenquelauquen.

The Chairman of the Provincial Bank at La Plata has just sent a most exhaustive despatch to the Governor of the Province touching the general working and internal administration of this "grand old house of credit" as some of our colleagues very aptly term it. The subject is one of such transcendent importance, not alone to this market, but to the entire country, that we could wish, did space permit, to publish Dn. Julio Costa's letter line for line. But as this is quite impossible we must content ourselves with extracting those parts only that most intimately affect this market. Since the removal of the head office to La Plata the position of the grand old Calle San Martin house has always been a most delicate and indefinite problem. Listen to the broad statesmanlike manner in which Mr. Costa grasps and grapples with the difficulty. "It will be the duty of the directory to fix their exclusive attention on the legitimate requirements of local commerce, so as to be able to compete fairly with kindred establishments raised by private capital, thus utilizing most efficaciouly, as is its bounden duty, the best elements at its disposal for the good of the province, whose industries and general interests it is also its peculiar mission to develop." The very point which appears to us to have been hitherto most neglected in the ill-advised ambition of former boards of directory to acquire for the establishment a wide international fame. To such a pitch was this carried at one period within our recollection that the Banco de la Provincia was positively better known in London, Berlin and Paris than in Chivilcoy or Bahia Blanca. Happily the error is now about to be corrected, and Mr. Costa deserves the best thanks of the entire public, both native and foreign, for coming forward so bravely in the matter.

Merchants, bankers, and others who may consider that their "patente" tax is fixed at too high a figure have still time all during the week to appeal to the jury to have same reduced. The jury sits from 8 to 10 o'clock every morning at the tax-office in Calle Alsina.

The gold premium in the morning opened at 155 and looked like falling, but towards evening there was a momentary squeeze, and prices rose all down the line closing at 156.30 for Monday and 156.80 for end month, a rather startling difference for one day.

Paper money was reported much easier to-day and large amounts were offering as low as 12 per cent. This will contribute much towards easing the stock market.

In exchange there is not much doing, though fair amounts have been passed at 47 7d. Francs are not offered.

Mr Tornquist took leave of his friends on 'Change to-day. He sails for Europe in the magnificent s.s. Buenos Aires. Mr. Tornquist may be regarded as the leader of this market. His house is, we believe, the largest business house in the Plate, and his firm is connected with some of the greatest financial operations in the country. He is esteemed and respected by the whole market. We all wish him a pleasant trip, and hope to see him back by the end of the year. Mr Correo Morales, one of our most successful and eminent brokers, also goes in the same steamer; also Sr. Dn. Ricardo Lavalle and many other distinguished members of the Bolsa, whose names we forget. They all go for a short pleasure trip to Europe.

The R.M.S. Atrato is expected here on the 6th prox. She comes direct, and we believe has 150 first-class passengers.

At the second hour the speculation was still very brisk. National Bank Shares weakened off, closing at 253.50 for end of month and 257.50 end May, but Constructors improved to 132 and 135.50 for same dates. Credito Real kept up to 136½. Catalinas fell off slightly, closing at 149 end month and 152 end May. These were the only stocks much dealt in. Cedulas were all firm, except the new O series which fell off to 75.70. National B shewed remarkable improvement, changing hands at 88.80.

There is such demand for good travelling accommodation that intending travellers will be glad to learn that the splendid Houston liner Heliades leaves for Europe on the 18th May and will call at Plymouth if sufficient inducement offers.

It was rumored on Change that in view of the very great fall in the shares of the National Bank and the impossibility of buyers to get money on the stock, the Government has determined to advance to holders at a valuation of 230 to the extent of 40,000 shares. Of course when this was known on Change there was a reaction in the stock.

We must correct our London correspondent as to his statement of a fall of 10 per cent in hard dollars when the Varela decree shutting the Bolsa was known. No such fall occurred. Hard dollars, owing to the high premium of gold in Buenos Aires, in the beginning of March declined to 64, and the crisis in Paris and London in the Comptoir d'Escompte business put them down to 63. When the news of the closing of the Bolsa reached London they dropped to 62, being only one point fall, and since then they have recovered, and as the premium on gold in Buenos Aires declines the price in London will advance. The report of our correspondent that the stock fell 10 points, or even 2 points, when the Varela decree was known in London is utterly destitute of foundation.

The growth of new banks in this market is so violent that it threatens mischief. To-day we have another new bank called the Retail Bank, started we suppose by the retail dealers in town. We hardly think there is room for so many banks, and, if the truth were known, some of them are barely covering their expenses. It would be wise to check somewhat this new banking fever, which could be easily done by delaying the papers, etc.

At the National Bank we note numerous signatures to the resolutions of merchants to be presented on Monday to Minister Varela. All the papers will be handed in this evening with the signatures to Mr. Mantels to put in order, and on Monday the commerce of Buenos Aires presents the document to Minister Varela. It will be a half-holiday, as one-half of the houses in town will be closed from 1 to 4.

Farmers will learn with pleasure that this morning as high as 6.60 m/n was paid in the South market for 10 kilos fine Merino wool. This is about the highest price yet paid.
